

LINDAU NOBEL LAUREATE MEETINGS

6th Lindau Meeting on Economic Sciences

Press Talk

Wednesday, 23 August 2017
14.00–14.45 hrs
Stadttheater (second floor)

The Future of the European Economy

After a long period of lacklustre economic performance, there are positive signs for the European economy. But a great many challenges remain, including creating jobs (especially for young people), promoting innovation, improving education and retirement finance, tackling inequality, and accelerating the shift to a decarbonised and more resource-efficient economy. This panel discussion will discuss some of the key issues facing policy-makers in Europe: taking the next steps on economic and monetary union, designing effective regulation of the financial sector and the dominant market players of the digital revolution, and responding to the threats from global warming. The laureates and young economists will also consider the implications for Europe of the outcomes of recent and upcoming national votes in a number of countries – as well as major political and social developments elsewhere in the world.

Panellists:

Sir Christopher A. Pissarides, Nobel Laureate in Economic Sciences (2010) and Professor at the London School of Economics, UK

Eric S. Maskin, Nobel Laureate in Economic Sciences (2007), Adams University Professor, Harvard University, USA

Frances Coppola, author of the Coppola Comment finance & economics blog and contributor to Forbes and the Financial Times, UK

Lenka Fiala, PhD-student, Tilburg School of Economics and Management, The Netherlands

Veronika Stolbova, postdoctoral researcher, Department of Banking & Finance, University of Zurich, Switzerland

Chair:

Romesh Vaitilingam, writer and media consultant, and a member of the editorial board of Vox
