

Media Information: Next Gen Science Sessions

From 300 applications, 24 young scientists, young economists and Lindau Alumni were selected to present their research in a Next Gen Science Session during #LINOSD. In the evaluation process, 128 Lindau Alumni contributed as reviewers.

Next Gen Speaker

Last Name	First Name	University	Discipline	Country
Adlung	Lorenz	The Weizmann Institute of Science	Biology	Israel
Alsved	Malin	Lund University	Physics	Sweden
Blakney	Anna	Imperial College London	Biology	UK
Bruenle	Steffen	Paul Scherrer Institut	Biology	Switzerland
Cembellin	Sara	Universidad Autónoma de Madrid	Chemistry	Spain
Das	Anuvab	Texas A&M University	Chemistry	USA
Doo	Steve	Leibniz-Zentrum für Marine Tropenforschung (ZMT) GmbH	Biology	Germany
Du	Mengqiao	University of Mannheim	Economics	Germany
Grau	Michael	Philipps-Universität Marburg	Physics	Germany
Grimmel	Stephanie	Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam	Chemistry	Netherlands
Kadiri	Vincent	Max-Planck-Institut für Intelligente Systeme	Chemistry	Germany
Karayel	Ozge	Max Planck Institute of Biochemistry	Biology	Germany
Kidonakis	Marios	University of Crete	Chemistry	Greece
Obst-Huebl	Lieselotte	Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory	Physics	USA
Ottinger	Sebastian	University of California, Los Angeles	Economics	USA
Peng	Bo	University of Cambridge	Physics	UK
Persson	Mats	KTH Royal Institute of Technology	Physics	Sweden
Pombo-Garcia	Karina	Max Planck Institute of Molecular Cell Biology and Genetics	Chemistry	Germany
Reiche	Daniel	Max-Born-Institut (MBI) im Forschungsverbund Berlin e.V.	Physics	Germany
Sachkou	Yauhen (Eugene)	The University of Queensland	Physics	Australia
Theodoraki	Marie-Nicole	University of Ulm	Medicine	Germany
Valente	Marica	German Institute for Economic Research - DIW Berlin	Economics	Germany
van Patten Rivera	Diana Maria	University of California, Los Angeles	Economics	USA
Zeglio	Erica	KTH Royal Institute of Technology	Physics	Sweden